BBC Watershed Riders Raise $120,000

One hundred fifty cyclists pedaled across Southeastern New England on Sunday to show their support for clean water during the Buzzards Bay Coalition's 10th anniversary Buzzards Bay Watershed Ride, an annual scenic bicycling tour stretching from Little Compton, RI to Woods Hole, MA.

The event raised more than $120,000 to support the nonprofit Coalition's education, conservation, research and advocacy work. Supporters can still donate to the Watershed Ride through Sunday, October 16 at www.savebuzzardsbay.org/ride.

"The Watershed Ride is special because it's such a unique way to experience the diversity of the landscapes in our watershed, from streams to salt marshes to cranberry bogs," said Mark Rasmussen, president of the Buzzards Bay Coalition and a cyclist in the Watershed Ride. "All of these communities are connected to Buzzards Bay, and being on a bike is one of the best ways to see that up close."

Cloudy skies couldn't dampen spirits at Sakonnet Point in Little Compton, where approximately 50 riders embarked upon the Watershed Ride's first-ever 100-mile "century ride" starting at 7:15 am. The route wound through Little Compton and Westport's picturesque coastal farmland to Horseneck Beach State Reservation, where another 50 riders began the 75-mile route at 8:00 am.

"The Buzzards Bay watershed is one of the most beautiful areas of the country, and the Ride snakes a course through some of the beauty that's visible from the road," said John Mendelsohn of Falmouth, one of the riders who completed the Watershed Ride's first-ever 100-mile route from Rhode Island to Cape Cod.

After cycling through coastal South Dartmouth, New Bedford's working waterfront, the leafy Fairhaven bike path and Mattapoisett's rural backroads, riders stopped for lunch at Eastover Farm on Leonards Pond in Rochester. There, 50 additional riders joined the Watershed Ride at noon for its final 35 miles through Wareham's cranberry bogs, across the Bourne Bridge and down Falmouth's Shining Sea Bikeway to end at the Marine Biological Laboratory Swope Center in Woods Hole village. At the finish line, riders and their guests were welcomed with warm food, drinks, prizes, complimentary massages and live music by Americana duo Butch McCarthy and Bob Calderara.

Kathy Nelson of Centerville captained "Team Girl Power," made up of nine members from Cape Cod who rode the 35-mile route from Rochester to Woods Hole. "Last year was the first time we participated in the Watershed Ride, and it was the first organized ride for most of the members," she said. "We had such a great time last year, we decided to do it again this year. In fact, we talked about it so much to our friends, we've recruited even more members to join our team this year!"

The Watershed Ride drew cyclists from over 70 communities in nine states and Washington, D.C. Three riders – Tom Gidwitz of Dartmouth, Leslie Knowles of Dartmouth and Ken Lipman of Fairhaven – have participated in all 10 Watershed Rides since the event began in 2007.

"It's fun, and it's a great cause. There's been more and more people riding [each year], which has added to the camaraderie," said Gidwitz about why he's returned to the Watershed Ride for 10 years running. "Plus, when you get to the end, there's plenty of good food and beer!"

The top fundraisers were Jeff Gonsalves of South Dartmouth, who raised $4,595; Andy van Dam of Barrington, who raised $3,863; and Leslie Knowles of South Dartmouth, who raised $3,115. The top fundraising team was "The Patch Pedalers," a six-member team from Rochester, Wareham and Bourne who raised $6,729. In

This Mattapoisett Life

By Marilou Newell

It flew in two days ago and taunts me for hours. I am a young dog. I find this very amusing, high entertainment and a reason to dash across the hardwood floors snapping at its buzzing form. It is a fly.

My humans are not so pleased and are blaming me for this intrusion into their otherwise completely boring existence. They sit. They stare at that huge screen watching reruns of Judge Judy. He swears at the Red Sox. She sighs over Masterpiece Theater. All in all, I'd say the fly has added some interest to their dull lives.

They blame me, of course. It is so easy to blame the voiceless innocents. They blame me because they have to open the door and let me into the yard before something very unfortunate for us all happens on Her oriental carpets. And so each time the door opens, maybe a fly or two swoop in – WHAT – this should be my fault? I think not.

The days go by as He attempts to knock the sense out of the fly with a rolled up newspaper and She, well, She simply flaps her hand around complaining while covering up the food on the counter with dish towels. Silly human. Doesn't She know that the fly has hopped all over that towel before She got out of bed this morning? Flies do not sleep.

I made my best effort today to rid them of their tormentor. I chased it back and forth from dining room to kitchen to living room to office and back again. That sucker is fast. I am undaunted. I can do this all day. Since stealth is not in my DNA, speed is my tool. The next time the fly lands on my head, it's over for the big-eyed fool.

Here He comes again with His weapon in hand. I watch. This is better than barking at the school bus. Whacking away as the fly jets off from one landing pad to another, He swings and misses like his beloved Sox. He is saying something very loudly, but I can't quiet make out the words. Oh wait, I know those words. He uses them when he drops something on the floor and then can't find it, or when the phone rings and someone is telling him the IRS is investigating his finances, or when another driver does something he doesn't agree with. Oh yes, I know what He is calling that fly. I won't repeat it here.

She is an easy target for the fly. There She is now, sitting on her little divan, busily tapping away on her laptop, writing God knows what about whom but she seems content until, uh oh, the fly tried to land on her earlobe. If there were Fly Olympics, that one would have received a 10 for level of difficulty. Bravo!

But it is all very exhausting. Those brilliant bursts of energy spent chasing a mouche sap my strength. Napping is required for this chien.

By the way, please forgive that bit of French. She has been watching videos about a French cat who is also some sort of philosopher, give me strength, so I've been picking up a little of the language. Silly woman. Those videos aren't even French; they come from Canada – sacré bleu!

She's left the door open again, not realizing I've returned from my perimeter check of the garden. Several more flies have entered the inner sanctum. There will be hell to pay. But when I tried to get Her attention, the response was "GO LAY DOWN." OK, suit yourself lady.

It is sad to note that even if I fail to swallow a few flies, the flies will die anyway. First and probably foremost, there are the spiders. No matter how much sweeping and dusting goes on around here, the spiders inhabit obscure corners with their evil webs of doom. Ever watched a fly struggling to free itself from those nets – I agree it isn't pretty.

And then there is the simple truth that a fly's lifespan is very short, about 28 days total. Who am I to interfere with their short furious attempts at procreation and limited survival? I could almost cry, but I won't

All About the Animals," a shelter run by Pam and Oren Robinson for lost, found, rescued, and homeless cats in Rochester.

The Halloween-themed event drew in so many people and raised so much money this year that it left Pam Robinson overwhelmed by the community's response.

"We are truly humbled by the support," said Robinson. With the roughly 100 items donated for the auction from local businesses and individuals, to the anonymous envelopes with hundred-dollar bills tucked inside, "Oren and I really realize how well we are supported by our community."

The event raised over $7,800 for the nonprofit cat shelter, which comes at the perfect time when construction is about to begin on a brand new building expansion to provide the cats with an additional room in which to dwell as they await a forever home of their own.

"It's going to help a lot," Robinson said.

Although the funds raised will assist in the cost of the construction, medical costs to care for the cats are where most of the money is spent on an ongoing basis.

On Sunday, a multitude of vendors and agencies set up booths selling dog treats to antiques, and the Lighthouse Animal Shelter of New Bedford was there taking applications for adoptions. Robinson said she also received a number of applications for cat adoptions, too.

But what really made the event purrfect, said Robinson, was her great group of volunteers who help keep the shelter functioning day to day.

"I have such a phenomenal group of volunteers," said Robinson. "We are like a family here. I've had such wonderful support from them. I am truly blessed."

It's All About the Animals is always in need of donations of clumping cat litter, cat food, and Lysol spray, in addition to funds to cover the costs of medical expenses. New volunteers are always welcome. Visit www.itsallabouttheanimals.org.

receptive to Rochester Troop #31 Boy Scout Riley Nordahl's proposed Eagle Scout project to perform much needed improvements to the police station landscaping.

Just ask Police Chief Paul Magee and he will tell you what an eyesore and a burden it is keeping up the flower beds.

On October 3, the Rochester Board of Selectmen gave the green light to Nordahl, age 17, to move forward with his Eagle Scout project, which he revealed to selectmen during a brief presentation on Monday night.

His plan is to refurbish the plaque on an existing memorial bench situated at the site and install a brand new bench. The flowerbeds will be weeded, tidied, and mulched, and new flowers donated from a Marion business will be planted.

"This was a volunteer effort in order for Riley to achieve his Eagle Scout badge, so it's not costing the town anything," Sergeant Robert Small. "It'll be a nice addition, and it's nice of him to improve on the memorial. It'll look really nice when he is finished, the way it is designed."

Troop #31 Scoutmaster Michael Blanchard said Nordahl has really "taken the bull by the horns" with his independence in planning for this project.

"It'll look really nice," said Blanchard. "It's a lot of hard work."

Nordahl plans to begin the work at the police station on October 8-9.

Also during the short meeting, selectmen breezed

No Change in Tax Classification

Rochester Board of Selectmen

By Jean Perry

Residential and commercial properties will continue to equally share the tax burden this next fiscal year, with the Rochester Board of Selectmen following the advice of the Board of Assessors on September 30 during a special Friday morning tax classification hearing.

The estimated tax rate for 2017 is $14.39 – up 38 cents from 2016 – and will remain the same rate given to both residents and businesses and industries in Rochester, with residential accounting for roughly 92% of the tax burden, said Assistant Assessor Charles Shea.

With the tax increase, the 'average' house value residence will see about a $200 increase in taxes for 2017.

During discussion, Shea told selectmen that if they chose to shift the burden from residential to commercial and industrial – the maximum it could at a 50% increase – the average homeowner in Rochester would see a $396 reduction in their total annual tax bill. Businesses, however, would see about an increase of $4,313 annually.

"We don't have enough businesses to spread out that type of a burden," said Shea. "Therefore, the Board of Assessors recommends no split in the tax rate."

The vote was unanimous.

Shea said that residents with any tax-related questions may contact the Assessors' Office. Tax bills will be going out to residents starting this week, he said.

Town Prepares for Public Record Law Changes

Marion Board of Selectmen

There will be "sweeping changes" to the way the Town responds to requests for public records, Town Administrator Paul Dawson told the Marion Board of Selectmen on October 3 – state-mandated changes that will require ample time and thought in order to comply, he added.

into law An Act to Improve Public Records, new provisions to the Public Records Law that will go into effect January 1, 2017.

The new provisions, Dawson explained to the board, will require municipalities to designate one or more Records Access Officers (RAO) to coordinate the town's response to requests for public records, assist the individuals seeking public records, assist in the preservation of records, and prepare guidelines that enable requestors to make informed requests.

Also under the new provisions, the municipalities in the Commonwealth must provide the requested information within 10 calendar days, a change from the current law that gives towns 10 days simply to respond to the request.

Beginning January 1, towns will also be limited in their charges for furnishing public records to requesters to $25 per hour maximum should the response require over two hours of employee work time.

Under the updated law, if a town fails to comply with the requirements within 10 days, an appeal that is petitioned to the Supervisor of Records and accepted may go directly to court and, if the requester prevails, the town is liable for legal fees and costs to the requester.

"It's good in its intent," said Dawson, "but it will force a number of changes for us, which I think are probably for the good ... but we have to think a lot on the ways we do things."

Dawson said he will continue to meet with staff internally to prepare for the changes and would keep the selectmen up to date on the information.

"This is going to have a significant impact on the ... different ways on how we deliver the access to public records," Dawson said. "This is a big change."

Also during the meeting, the board honored retiring Veterans Office Principal Clerk Paula Butterfield who has served the Tri-Town veterans for 25 years. She will be leaving November 25 of this year.

Selectmen Chairman Jody Dickerson said that although Butterfield had only been working as veterans clerk in the Town of Marion for about two years, in that short period of time what she has done for Marion veterans was "remarkable," as Dickerson put it.

"We really appreciate everything that you've done," said Dickerson. "You definitely will be missed."

Butterfield said her parting is bittersweet and that it has been an honor to serve the local veterans for all these years.

"It's going to be hard for me to leave," said Butterfield. "I'm going to miss my veterans and their families."

The selectmen each thanked Butterfield personally and gave her a basket of flowers.

The next meeting of the Marion Board of Selectmen is scheduled for October 6 when the board will meet with the Finance Committee at 6:30 pm at the

Marion Preparing to Take On Big Tobacco

Marion Board of Health

By Jean Perry

The Marion Board of Health has decided to move forward with a regulation to restrict the sale of flavored tobacco products, but Marion will be the very first municipality in the United States to include menthol cigarettes in its restriction.

The regulation would restrict the sale of menthol cigarettes and flavored tobacco products to adult-only stores, of which there are none in Marion.

Law firm Jones Day, representing R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, among others, wrote a letter to the Board of Health dated September 26, telling the board that the flavor ban violates the Supremacy Clause of the U.S. Constitution.

"[W]e urge Marion to refrain from adopting the proposed regulation," reads the letter. "If Marion instead chooses to adopt these provisions, we will have no choice but to consider the initiation of litigation challenging the regulation."

The board was also in receipt of a letter from the Coalition for Responsible Retailing (CRR) dated September 19, representing retail trade associations that represent retail stores located in Marion. The letter asked the board to refrain from adopting such a restriction on flavored tobacco and menthol cigarettes citing a "severe financial impact on law-abiding retailers that have demonstrated 100% retail compliance in preventing the sale of tobacco to minors," and furthermore calling the regulations "outside the scope of the Board of Health's statutory authority.

The CRR cited the article from The Wanderer when Cheryl Sbarra warned the board of the risk of a lawsuit should it adopt such a restriction on menthol cigarettes, stating in the letter, "The assessment of the litigation risk is a reasonable one.

On October 3, the Board of Health met with a number of individuals representing several anti-tobacco entities that pledged their support should the board proceed with the regulation.

Christopher Banthin, program director of the Public Health Advocacy Institute (PHAI) of Northeastern University offered his and the PHAI's pro bono support, should the tobacco industry initiate a lawsuit against the town all the way through the appellate level.

Banthin spoke with Town Counsel Jon Whitten, suggesting the town appoint Banthin as special counsel, saying, "[Whitten] was satisfied that, as long as a law firm would be willing to shoulder the defense of the case, he would feel comfortable moving forward..."

Banthin said his organization has ample experience defending a health regulation such as the one

Marion is pursuing.

"We are focused on this issue," said Banthin. "We know that this regulation would advance public health and protect millions of lives, so we are eager to help you and defend you at no cost."

Also at the table with the Board of Health that night was Cheryl Sbarra, an attorney from the Massachusetts Association of Health Boards, Southeast Tobacco-Free Community Partnership Program Manager Kathleen Wilbur, and Bob Collett, director of the Cape Cod Regional Tobacco Control Program.

Sbarra said everyone willing to support the town through research assistance and legal representation is passionate about the issue; however, all parties must not move ahead in haste because much work is involved in preparing for this type of litigation risk.

"I would respectfully suggest that instead of moving forward with this as quickly as we are, this will suck up a lot of research time on our part," Sbarra said. "This has the capability of taking on a life of its own."

Sbarra said she would prefer to see a public hearing later rather than sooner so that they can be properly prepared.

"Because the industry will be," said Sbarra.

Board of Health member Jason Reynolds concurred.

"I agree that it's something that we probably need to be very purposeful [towards]," said Reynolds, adding,

Inn Supporters Pack ZBA Hearing

Mattapoisett Zoning Board of Appeals

By Marilou Newell

On September 29, nearly 300 people, primarily supporters of the Inn at Shipyard Park, attended the Mattapoisett Zoning Board of Appeals hearing petitioned by abutters seeking to stop the music at the historic inn.

George and Maureen Butler have lodged complaints against the inn, claiming that amplified music is akin to living next to "speeding trains." The Butlers, represented by Attorney Tom Crotty, presented what they believed was irrefutable evidence that the inn's music and its rowdy patrons made living next to the inn intolerable because it was a nightclub.

For evidence of high decibel noise, the Butlers had a video professionally produced containing imagery from inside and outside the inn. Some video footage was taken by a security camera mounted on the exterior of the Butler residence and seemed to document loud music emanating from the inn after 10:00 pm, with inebriated patrons gathering on the sidewalk outside the establishment. The Butlers' video attempted to portray that the noise was 'obnoxious' while also attempting to illustrate that the inn was operating a nightclub in violation of their special permit.

Crotty said, "There's a change in the nature and the purpose of the bar..." This point, he said, was the primary reason for the Butlers' filing an enforcement request.

The Butlers' request to the ZBA asked that the board order the building inspector, Andy Bobola, to enforce conditions of the inn's special permit. Bobola did not do so, which prompted the hearing.

Time and again, in his presentation, Crotty insisted, "They are not interested in the restaurant business ... the bar brings in a crowd." He also stated, "If any of you had this noise next to your house, you'd be up in arms!" he asserted. Those in attendance shouted out "MOVE!" and "THAT'S A LIE!"

The Butlers also claimed that modifications to the interior of the inn removed soundproofing while increasing the bar seating capacity and decreasing the restaurant seating. And while the Butlers have asserted they do not want the inn to be closed, their claim of loss of quiet use of their residential property due to loud music and patrons made living next door difficult. They sought to have the inn return to what they claim were quieter activities in the 1960s.

Owner/operator Nils Johnson then spoke. After thanking the standing room-only crowd for their support, he said his primary income source was not the bar and entertainment.

Johnson said the nature of the music had not changed substantially over the years, and his permit allows for 114 hours of entertainment, of which they use only 15 hours. He said that there are 87 hours of foodservice on any given week, emphasizing the point that food was his primary business. Johnson said his food sales were 100 percent over his bar sales.

Johnson shared that more than 45 calls to the police department were lodged against his business between 2012 and 2016, all from the Butlers with “no evidence being found that I violated any of my licenses...”

Regarding the Butlers’ property, Johnson said they use some of the space for commercial activities while receiving a 5 percent discount off their property taxes because it abuts his commercial property.

Mattapoisett’s principal assessor, Kathleen Costello, confirmed that the Butler property, as do other properties in town that abut commercial lots, receives a discount of 5 percent.

At the end of his defense, Johnson said, “We are keeping Mattapoisett special.” The crowd responded with thunderous applause.

Johnson’s Attorney Marc Deshaies defended his client, saying, “The restaurant, bar, and inn are an integrated whole...” and the definition of a nightclub did not apply to Johnson’s business profile.

After nearly two hours of sometimes heated exchanges between the inn’s supporters and Crotty, Town Counsel Jonathan Silverstein told the board to consider the following when deliberating the Butlers’ claims: 1) is there a change in the nature of use; 2) a change in the quality and degree of use; and 3) whether the use is different in kind.

Board member Mary Ann Brogan spoke saying, “We don’t have a noise ordinance in this town. All the noise things have nothing to do with why we are here; it is not a nightclub, I agree with Andy.”

The other board members agreed, voting unanimously to uphold Bobola’s refusal to act on the Butler request for enforcement. The Butlers have 20 days to appeal the ZBA decision.

There was other preceding business on this evening, including special permits approved for William Barnes, 0 North Street, for the construction of a single family home; Nick’s Pizza for the installation of an exterior cooler unit; and Blue Wave LLC for a 21,000-panel solar array on the west side of Crystal Spring Road near the September 26 denied Joseph Sullivan's request on behalf of ConEdison Solutions for a release of the $100,000 surety bond for the 30-acre solar farm project situated near Little Quittacas reservoir.

Sullivan said the board's conditions of the project had been met: screening had been planted; a berm constructed; and landscaping was complete, as well as natural brush that was seeded and allowed to flourish.

He added, though, that some dogwood trees that were planted might need replacement, but the company will hold off until the spring to assess the progress of the young trees.

Planning Board Chairman Arnold Johnson tapped his fingers on the table in thought before responding.

"The problem that I have with you folks is the communication has been terrible," Johnson said, adding that in the past the developer had told the board, "'Oh yeah, we're here, we're a phone call away, we'll get it done.'"

Never happened, stated Johnson.

After dozens of emails, Johnson said, and a number of phone calls ... nothing.

"And now all of a sudden you want your money back and you show up," said Johnson.

Sullivan argued that he has been "very responsive," yet Johnson maintained that it had been over a year that he has been wondering when the failed

"You're really lucky we're in a drought," said Johnson, reminding Sullivan that the town holds the surety for "stuff like this" to ensure that aspects of the project are completed and maintained. "Those basins have been like that for three years."

The board concurred that it would not release any funds at this time until the developer completes the basin work.

"Then we can talk about releasing some of the money," said Johnson.

Planning Board member Michael Murphy commented that the board had heard enough excuses as to why the work was not completed.

"The bottom line is, it's not done," said Murphy. "Nothing's been done ... we've gotten no communication, [and] that doesn't sit well with the board."

The board requested that the work be completed by the Planning Board's next meeting in October, when it will decide whether to release any of the surety or not.

In other matters, the board accepted an Approval Not Required request for Decas Cranberry Products for two lots at Walnut Plain Road and Ryder Road. One lot was undersized, so a 140-foot by 120-foot portion of one lot was reallocated to the adjacent lot.

Also during the meeting, engineer David Davignon just about wrapped up the presentation for Dale and Laura Briggs' project to build a 7,500 square-foot metal commercial building at 269 Cranberry Highway.

Chairman Johnson said the board will likely close the public hearing at the next meeting and vote on the project at the subsequent meeting.

This was the last Planning Board meeting for Town Planner Mary Crain, who has resigned as the town planner. The board voted to authorize the chairman to make any decisions and take any actions the town planner might have assumed prior to Crain's resignation.

The next meeting of the Rochester Planning Board is scheduled for October 11 at 7:00 pm, returning to the regular Tuesday night meeting schedule.

Grassi Bog Plan Revised, Order of Conditions Amended

Marion Conservation Commission

By Jean Perry

The Grassi Bog project will move forward with a couple of revisions to the plan, which the Marion Conservation Commission accepted and approved with an amended Order of Conditions on September 28.

Marion Open Space Acquisition Commission Chairman John Rockwell presented the changes to the plan that is designed to update water control structures at the site that were damaged by a significant rainstorm. These changes consist of an increase in size of the aluminum exit culvert and the addition of a gravel blanket in the spillway.

The culvert will be 16 inches wider than the proposed culvert, which Rockwell said would upgrade stormwater flow capacity significantly.

The commission had the choice to either amend the Order of Conditions or to attach a written letter to the plan, and ultimately chose to amend the Order of Conditions.

Consistent construction updates to the commission from the engineer is still an existing requirement.

Conservation Commission member Norm Hills noted that this is the second amendment to the project plan.

The commission also acknowledged that the plan would expire in April of 2017 after a one-year extension was granted this April 2016. Hills commented that MOSAC would likely have to return for another extension if work does not begin soon.

"I hope this gets done," said Chairman Jeffrey Doubrava. "This is like the never-ending story."

The public hearing for Shea Doonan's aquaculture farm he hopes to establish off Meadow Island has been continued until October 26 at the applicant's request. Doonan is waiting for the Board of Selectmen to comment at its October 18 meeting.

The next meeting of the Marion Conservation Commission is scheduled for October 12 at 7:00 pm at the Marion Town House.

Rochester Conservation Commission
By Marilou Newell

It's been 18 years since William Milka, 241 New Bedford Road, came before the Rochester Conservation Commission with filings for the construction of two cranberry bogs: one that was built and one that never came to fruition. And now nearly two decades later, Milka needs to put closure on the open Order of Conditions so that he can move forward with a new plan – the construction of a solar array.

Conservation Agent Laurell Farinon explained that originally, Milka's filing was an "after-the-fact" filing as construction on a two-acre bog had taken place before he met with the Conservation Commission.

There was also disagreement, she said, regarding the exact location of the wetland lines. Those matters were successfully cleared up and Milka received an Order of Conditions that included a plan for a second three-acre bog.

"The second bog was never done," Farinon said, "and the two-acre bog he's let go." She said that the first bog was not being maintained and that Milka would have another filing coming before the commission at their next meeting.

Farinon said Milka's new filing would be for the construction of a solar array on the two-acre bog parcel.

Commission member Daniel Gagne questioned engineered drawings presented at the hearing and wondered if they should have as-built plans and not just a letter from the engineer, Bill Madden, confirming compliance with the Order of Conditions and an earlier set of plans.

Farinon suggested that the Certificate of Compliance hearing be continued until the next meeting since the commission members would be making a site visit in advance of Milka's Request for Determination of Applicability hearing that they will have before them at their next meeting. The hearing was continued until October 18.

The commission also approved a three-year extension for work nearly complete at Louis and Rebecca Davenport's property located at 106 Clapp Road. The Davenports' original filing was also an older one from 2012, but as the applicants explained, "Things cost a lot more than we thought." With more than 90 percent of their plans completed, the commission approved an extension to give the Davenports sufficient time to complete landscaping plans.

The next meeting of the Rochester Conservation Commission is planned for October 18 at 7:00 pm in the town hall meeting room.

Easy Night for New Planning Board Members

Mattapoissett Planning Board

By Marilou Newell

The Mattapoissett Planning Board had an extremely light agenda on October 3 as Chairman Tom Tucker welcomed its two newest members, Gail Carlson and Janice Robbins, to their chairs at the conference table. As Tucker introduced them, he added with a wry smile, "I hope you don't regret this."

Before them was a Form-A Approval not Required application from Michael Esposito and Cynthia Redel for 18 and 20 Ned's Point Road. The applicants own one home originally built by William York Peters in 1917. Peters was a well-known Boston architect who graduated from Harvard and studied in France. The two parcels were later owned by a local notable, Richard Young, whose company, Titleist, is world famous. Young was also regarded as one of the biggest philanthropist Southeastern Massachusetts has ever known. The famous properties feature a single pier.

The board members were asked by Doug Schneider of N. Douglas Schneider & Associates to approve a final set of drawings that will allow a narrow strip of land between 18 and 20 Ned's Point Road to be created and which will contain the pier used by both homes but will not create a buildable lot.

Tucker explained that sectioning would allow the applicants at a future point in time to have the newly-created piece joined with one of the other parcels. The applicants require local planning board approval in order to petition land court for final acceptance of the sectioning. The board unanimously approved the request.

Also in attendance was Highway Surveyor Barry Denham who said that as of September 26, numerous items remained incomplete or problematic at the beleaguered Brandt Point Village subdivision. Tucker said that the owner/developers would be attending a future meeting before new homes are erected, saying, "I'd like to stand firm that things have to get done."

Denham once again voiced his concerns regarding the condition of the main roadway into the development saying that it is rutted, indicating sub-surface failure in many locations. He said he would like another engineering firm to look at testing certified by the developers' engineers, Tibbets Engineering, and suggested Field Engineering for that oversight function.

Denham also updated the board on stormwater management system work at River Road, part of the Appaloosa Lane subdivision, noting that work was moving along and asking that G.A.F. Engineering provide as-built plans for the board's review once the work is complete.

"I recommend when they are done, you have G.A.F. do an as-built so we'll know it was installed properly," said Denham. The board agreed.

The next meeting of the Mattapoisett Planning Board is scheduled for October 17 at 7:00 pm in the town hall conference room.

Tabor to Host Science at Work Lectures

Tabor Academy Update

By Jack Gordon

Throughout the remainder of the year, Tabor Academy will again host "Science at Work" lectures, a series built on the goal of exposing both the Tabor and local communities to scientific leaders from the region and beyond.

The series will commence on Monday, October 17, at 6:30 pm at Tabor Academy's Lyndon South Auditorium with Dr. Michael Moore, director of the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute (WHOI) Marine Mammal Center.

Dr. Moore will discuss modern methods of assessing the condition of whales, specifically those off the coast of Cape Cod. Among the methods discussed will be the use of drones to monitor species, and the utilization of "forensic examination" to better comprehend the biggest threats to the whales.

Dr. Moore will draw from years of research experience on whales, having worked in the field since he entered the WHOI as a graduate student in 1986. In that time, on top of providing veterinary support to the Marine Mammal Rescue and Research Division of the International Fund for Animal Welfare in Cape Cod, he has, among many projects, experimented with methods to sedate whales in order to free them from ropes or netting, worked to better understand the effects of impact with boats on the creatures, and analyzed the unsuccessful rebound of the North Atlantic Right Whale.

As the "School by the Sea," Tabor naturally has a unique connection to the rich aquatic environment of Sippican Harbor and Buzzards Bay. Thus, the Science at Work lectures not only provide a means to further enrich the marine science learning environment at the school, but display these programs to the South Coast community.

"I want the presentation to reach, educate, and interest the student body and the public," said Tabor Director of Marine Sciences Jay Cassista. "This is an opportunity to sit side by side with our neighbors to enjoy and learn from scientists all over the nation."

The enrichment brought by each speaker is not limited to the lecture itself. The speakers spend the day on the Tabor campus, talking with students in the classroom and integrating their expertise with the curriculums of each course they visit. Paired with the evening lecture, students are able to get an in-depth look at real-world scientific research being done both in the community and around the world.

The lecture by Dr. Moore is the first of three lectures scheduled in this year's series. On December 12, Executive Director of the Coalition for Buzzards Bay, Mark Rasmussen, will discuss the work done by the Coalition to protect and raise awareness about the local marine environment.

The third lecture will be by Dr. Yolanda Cruz, a Professor of Biology at Oberlin College, who will speak about stem cell research and "designer babies." The final presentation has yet to be scheduled. Each lecture is free and open to the public.

The speaker series began as the brainchild of Cassista and Tabor Director of Communications Kerry Saltonstall, who merged their ideas of inviting scientists to campus and hosting a speaker series into one event combining the two.

Last year, the school hosted five presentations on a diverse range of topics. The subjects of the talks included using Citizen Science to aid pollination research, understanding recent unusual weather patterns, and even photographing penguins in Antarctica.

The lectures drew hundreds of people from the Tabor community and beyond, even drawing a presence from many other researchers in the area.

"This seemed like a fantastic way to bring scientists in the field of marine research to Tabor and for our students to benefit from research that is being done by passionate professionals," said Cassista.

NHS Received 41 New Inductees

Old Colony Update

By Elizabeth Jerome

On Friday, September 30, the stage at Old Colony Regional Vocational Technical High School was set.

The chairs were laid out, the lights were up, and the podium stood tall in clear view of the audience. In center stage, a table was decorated with candles and a blue and gold banner reading "National Honor Society." Everything was perfect to welcome 41 new inductee members to the Old Colony Chapter of the National Honor Society.

To be welcomed into the Old Colony Chapter of NHS is a high honor. One must exhibit the qualities of character, scholarship, leadership, and service. Academic achievement alone is not enough; there must be a passion to inspire and help others. Principal Karen Guenette best expressed this sentiment to the new inductees.

"Our Old Colony chapter is very special," said Guenette. "You all make sacrifices for the betterment and recognition of our society, which is a testament of your true characteristics. You do these good deeds that do not always return glory and that may not return praise ... I, as your principal, am very proud of each and every one of you."

Guenette was not the only proud face at the event. Parents, siblings, and other family members and friends filled the audience with smiling overjoyed faces. Advisers Marcie Gamlin and Heather Gifford welcomed in new members with open arms. NHS president Kelsey Malloy and Vice President Cassandra Saniuk stood to shake hands with the new members. Veteran members cheered from the crowd.

On stage, the new inductees took the National Honor Society pledge, promising to maintain and uphold the high standards of scholarship, service, leadership, and character that earned them their spots on that stage. This pledge should not be hard to upkeep, as these students have proven time and time again their ability to go above and beyond what is required of a student.

By the end of the ceremony, the 41 new inductees stood together with their officers and advisers as one proud group. They took memorable pictures for proud parents and rejoined their families for baked goods provided by the veteran members of NHS.

It was a lovely night and their families, school, and community are still very proud of them.

Boys' Soccer: The boys' soccer team has had a rough season so far, suffering many losses including one against GNB Voc-Tech on Monday, but on Wednesday, the Bulldogs notched their first win of the season against Apponequet. It was a close game with a score of 1-0. Senior captain Alex Sousa found the back of the net for the Bulldogs and James Dwyer made seven key saves to secure the win for the Bulldogs.

Girls' Soccer: The girls' soccer team played two tough teams this week and experienced their first loss of the season to GNB Voc-Tech. They lost 6-2 with Maddie Demanche and Ava Ciffolillo scoring the two lone goals

My parrot only like the sunflower seeds in her seed mix. How can I get her to eat the other seeds.

I equate an all seed diet to an all white bread diet. Ok, in the short run, but severely deficient over time. Seeds lack vitamin A and a number of essential oils.

What should I feed my parrot?

Feed pelleted bird food. It looks like dry dog or cat food but much smaller, and its formulated for birds. To this add fresh fruits and vegetables. Offer the seeds for 10 minutes in the morning and 10 minutes in the evening and leave the pellets, fruits and veggies available for the rest of the day.

for the Bulldogs. On Wednesday, they played Apponequet and came out with a 4-4 tie. Both teams came out fighting through the miserable conditions that Mother Nature had to offer. Meg Hughes, Mary Butler, Ciffolillo, and Demanche each put one in the net for ORR.

Volleyball: The Lady Bulldogs had a difficult week surpassing their competition. On Monday, the girls faced GNB Voc-Tech and lost all three sets (25-12, 25-11, 25-16). On Wednesday, the girls had a better game winning two out of the five sets against Apponequet. Unfortunately, the Lady Bulldogs couldn't get past their third competitor of the week and lost 3-0 to Case on Friday.

Golf: The Bulldogs took on Apponequet on Monday at the Bay Club (par 35) with a 152-137 win. Top players for ORR were Collin Fitzpatrick who shot a 39 for 29 points, Russ Noonan who shot a 40 for 28 points, and Tyler Mourao who shot a 41 for 25 points. Fitzpatrick and Mourao also played really well in their match against Fairhaven on Tuesday. Fitzpatrick shot two over 37 for 33 points and Mourao shot a 38 for 32 points, which led the Bulldogs to a 151-29 win. On Wednesday, the team faced Seekonk and beat them 146-105. Noonan, Sam Henrie, and Alex Henrie led the scoring for the Bulldogs.

Field Hockey: The field hockey team had a fantastic week defeating all three of their opponents. On Monday, they played New Bedford and came out with a 4-2 win. Kaitlin Kelley scored two of the four goals for the Bulldogs, and Hannah Guard and Sophie Hubbard also put one in net. On Wednesday, the girls faced Case with a 7-0 victory. Goals were scored by Hubbard (2), Reese Graham (2), Sophia Church, Lexi Parker, and Emily Bock. The Lady Bulldogs then traveled to Bourne on Friday and surpassed the harsh elements to claim a 1-0 victory. Hubbard scored the lone goal assisted by Kelley. Riley Goulet and Gates Tenerowicz both had an outstanding game in net with a couple of crucial saves to secure the win.

Football: The Bulldogs gave Seekonk their first loss on Friday with a 28-7 victory. In the first quarter, Mike Mcallister ran the ball 48 yards into the end zone, which put the Bulldogs up 6-0. Shortly after, Harry Smith ran it in two yards adding another six points to the scoreboard making it 12-0. In the fourth quarter, quarterback Cam Hamilton threw 13 yards to Patrick Saltmarsh, which extended their lead to 18-7, and then Smith ran it in for the two-point conversion making it 20-7. Hamilton again connected with Saltmarsh later in the quarter on a 20-yard touchdown pass then ran in the two-point conversion to finalize the score 28-7.

Letters to the Editor

The views expressed in the "Letters to the Editor" column are not necessarily those of The Wanderer, its staff or advertisers. To the Editor:

We are writing in support of the Town of Marion's acceptance of the VFW property. This article will be voted on at Town Meeting on October 24. We extend our gratitude to the Benjamin D. Cushing Post for all their service to our country and to the Town of Marion in the past, and we regret that they have had to disband their organization. We appreciate both their generosity in making this gift to the Town and also their realization of the importance of having a Senior/Community Center for the citizens of Marion.

As representatives of both the Council on Aging and of The Friends of Marion COA, we are keenly aware of the need for a facility where older adults can socialize over meals, participate in exercise activities, and enjoy programs and lectures. A trial Center began operation last August and currently serves over 100 persons a week at the Music Hall. But we need a permanent location of our own:

- The population over 60 in Marion is currently over 30% and is projected to rise to 40% in the next 10 years.
- The Music Hall is used by many organizations – there are no offices for the COA there and no room for storage.
- The parking, lack of adequate kitchen facilities, second-floor restrooms, and space allocation is a limiting factor on the ability to serve the larger community.

We have been exploring what it might mean to share a Center with the Recreation Department to serve the youth after school hours and at night when the older adults are not likely to use the space. We think it makes sense to consider a Center that could be shared by the whole community.

We realize that there are many potential uses for the VFW property and they need to be considered before any final plans are brought to the Town for consideration. But we urge the voters to accept this very generous donation of property so that we may move ahead with

TOWN OF MATTAPOISETT MANDATORY WATER USE RESTRICTION

As a result of the continued below normal precipitation and declining groundwater and surface water resources the Town of Mattapoisett is implementing a BAN on NONESSENTIAL OUTSIDE WATER USE. This BAN is in accordance with recommendations by the Massachusetts Office of Energy and Environmental Affairs and Drought Management Task Force. This BAN is necessary to ensure adequate water supply continues to be available for essential public health and fire protection needs. FAILURE TO COMPLY COULD RESULT IN WRITTEN WARNING AND/ OR POSSIBLE FINES.

Nonessential outdoor water use shall mean those uses that are not required:

1. for health or safety reasons;
2. by regulation;
3. for the production of food and fiber;
4. for the maintenance of livestock;
5. to meet the core functions of a business (for example, or irrigation by plant nurseries or agricultural operations as necessary to maintain stock or establish new plantings, wash equipment to prevent damage and/or maintain performance of agricultural or construction vehicles or equipment; or
6. for irrigation by golf courses as necessary to maintain tees and greens, subject to the Town's approval.

Nonessential outdoor water uses that are subject to mandatory restrictions include:

1. Irrigation of lawns via sprinklers or automatic irrigation systems;
2. Washing of vehicles, except in a commercial car wash or as necessary for operator safety or to prevent damage and/or maintain performance of agricultural or construction vehicles or equipment; and
3. Washing of exterior building surfaces, parking lots, driveways or sidewalks, except as necessary to apply paint, preservatives, stucco, pavement or cement.

Exceptions to nonessential outdoor water uses are:

1. Gardens, flowers and ornamental plants by means of a hand-held hose - between the hours of 6AM to 8 AM and 6 PM to 8 PM only
2. Irrigation with harvested and stored storm water runoff between the hours of 6AM to 8 AM and 6 PM to 8 PM only

The following outdoor water uses are subject to review and approval by the Town of Mattapoisett, through its Board of Water and Sewer Commissioners,

- irrigation to establish replanted or reseeded lawn or plantings
- irrigation of newly planted lawns (seeded or sodded) for homes or businesses newly constructed in the previous twelve months;
- Filling of privately owned outdoor pools; and
- irrigation by golf courses as necessary to maintain tees and greens.

Residents who are currently on a private well are encouraged to participate in the current restrictions due to the drought situation across the State.

School, flower beds at the Congregational Church and picking up trash along some of the main roads.

The students were enthusiastic workers and all the groups had a faculty member to help oversee the work. My group, headed by Will O'Leary, cleared paths in Homes Woods and cleaned up trash and debris. So many thanks for this huge town service and to the Tabor Community and Amelia Wright for making it happen.

With gratitude,

OBITUARIES

Robert G. Burbank, 82, of Mattapoisett died Saturday October 1, 2016 at St. Luke's Hospital after a brief illness. He was the husband of the late Martha A. (Coates) Burbank, with whom he shared 60 years of marriage.

Born in New Bedford, the son of the late Eric G. and Helen M. (Gidley) Burbank, he lived in New Bedford, Dartmouth and Fairhaven before moving to Mattapoisett in 1966.

He attended the Mattapoisett Congregational Church.

Mr. Burbank was formerly employed as an electrical engineer at Commonwealth Electric for 18 years until his retirement.

He had been active with Boys Scouts of America, and enjoyed fishing. He was a graduate of Fairhaven High School, Class of 1952.

During the Korean War, he served in the U.S. Army.

Survivors include his son, Robert E. Burbank of North Conway, NH; a sister, Frances S. Nesmith and her husband Donald of South Harwich and Florida; and several nieces and nephews.

He was the brother of the late Shirley Shepley and Richard W. Burbank.

His Graveside Service will be held on Saturday October 15, 2016 at 1 PM at Cushing Cemetery, Mattapoisett. In lieu of flowers, remembrances may be made to the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, 101 Centerpoint Drive, Suite 107, Middletown, CT 06457. Arrangements are by the Saunders-Dwyer Mattapoisett Home For Funerals, 50 County Rd., Route 6, Mattapoisett. For online guestbook, please visit www.saundersdwyer.com.

Dorothy T. Marini, 87, of Marion, died Friday, September 30, 2016, at Sippican Healthcare Center after a long illness.

Dorothy was the wife of the late Joseph A. Marini; they enjoyed 54 years of marriage until his passing in 2007. She is survived by daughter Susan (Marini) Nielsen and husband Butch of Fairhaven; daughter Paula Marini of West Wareham; and daughter Arlene Marini of Mattapoisett. Her and Joe's life was centered around the love of family which included grandchildren Marina, Jillian and Matthew Nielsen; Joseph Risher and his fiancée Jessica Levee; A.J. Risher; and Nicole and Nolen Enos; and her great granddaughter, Leila Risher.

She was the mother of the late Joseph J. Marini.

Mrs. Marini was born and raised in Chelsea, MA. She worked as a telephone operator for many years before she met Joe They married and moved to Marion in 1952 where Dorothy and Joseph provided a warm and loving home to their family and to all who knew them.

She worked at the Harbor Beach Club and then worked at St. Luke's Hospital for many years until her retirement. She was always very involved in her children's and grandchildren's lives. Her absence will be sorely felt by her family.

A celebration of Dorothy's life will be conducted at the Wickenden Chapel on the grounds of Tabor Academy, Spring Street, Marion on Thursday, October 6, at 11:00 am. Burial will follow in Evergreen Cemetery, Marion. Visiting hours will be on Wednesday, October 5th from 4:00 to 8:00 pm at the Saunders-Dwyer Mattapoisett Home for Funerals, 50 County Road, Mattapoisett. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made in her memory to Damien's Place Food Pantry, 3065 Cranberry Hwy B230, East Wareham, MA, 02538. For directions and guestbook, please visit www.saundersdwyer.com.

If you have a notice you would like to have included in the Obituaries section, please contact our office at: 508 758-9055, by fax at 508-758-4845, or by email at office@wanderer.com.

Marion Town House Building Committee

The Town House Building Committee and their architects, Turowski Architecture, are moving forward with planning for the Historic Renovation of the Marion Town House. The Marion Town House, built in 1876 and 1890 in the Italianate style of the time, is the most significant architectural treasure in Marion. It is also a powerful symbol of the generosity of the town's most important benefactor, Elizabeth Taber. Years of deferred maintenance and bureaucratic delays have resulted in a building in need of total renovation to restore it to its original glory.

At the fall Town Meeting, the Marion Board of Selectmen will be requesting funding to complete the design development drawings so a final cost estimate can be created. If approved, a subsequent request for approximately $11M will be made at the spring Town

The Brain That Wouldn't Die (1962). Starring Herb Evers and Virginia Leith. Directed by Joseph Green. Running time: 89 minutes.

How can anyone not love a movie in which a woman's bitter disembodied head snarls to a mutant locked in a closet, "I'm only a head ... and you're whatever you are..."? The Brain That Wouldn't Die, which kicks off our month-long Halloween celebration of lesser-known horror gems, is amazingly sleazy and ghastly and cheap and, yes, deeply lovable. It has as its proto-feminist heroine a woman who has been whittled down to her mind, which gives her new psychic powers that she doesn't hesitate to use against the men of science who presume to shape her destiny. Playing this woman, Jan Compton, in the early scenes, Virginia Leith is somewhat interchangeable with the film's other female characters; once reduced to a head, though, Leith hisses and growls in her newly husky voice, and she becomes an image of perverse beauty and strength.

What happens to Jan is that she's decapitated in a car wreck; fortunately, or unfortunately, her fiancé Bill Cortner (Herb Evers) is a maverick surgeon obsessed with experimenting on humans. A past experiment has already resulted in the aforementioned mutant in the closet, and now Dr. Bill wants to find Jan a new body upon which to transplant her head. This appalls Jan, who simply wants to die, but while she's kept alive she must figure she may as well wreak some havoc. She develops a telepathic bond with the hidden mutant, who is responsible for most of the movie's inky, black-and-white bloodshed.

Brain has a sweaty, lowdown, skid-row charm. Dr. Bill keeps frequenting places of ill repute (a strip club, a beauty contest) while Abie Baker's dirty ditty "The Web" honks and fidgets suggestively. Meanwhile, his disabled assistant Kurt (Leslie Daniels) taunts Jan and cringes from the thumps made by the closeted mutant, who seems to function as Jan's id. The movie, made in 1959 but not released until 1962, has a deep streak of misandry. Women in the film are targeted by men, abused, scarred, robbed of their agency. Jan alone, having forfeited her physique, has the power to burn the rampant misogyny down to the ground.

All of this comes packaged in a movie whose technique is, to put it gently, basic. I'm annoyed by the mundane reviews calling it "inept," though. Brain creates and sustains an eerie, clammy psychosexual mood. Dr. Bill, who resembles a cross between Vince Vaughn and a young Aidan Quinn, bops along smugly to havens of pulchritude; of course he'd go to strippers or beauty contestants when body-shopping for his fiancée. He settles on Doris (Adele Lamont), a photographers' model with a scarred face from an abusive ex. She loathes men, but goes home with Dr. Bill because he promises corrective plastic surgery. Also, she senses that he doesn't want her for sex, which is true; he just wants her for her body. Heh heh heh. At times Brain is interchangeable tonally with several classic E.C. Comics horror tales, the vicious and morally polluted kind written so indelibly by Al Feldman.

The mutant, when we see him finally, is played by Diane Arbus giant Eddie Carmel wearing make-up that turns his entire head into a riot of mismatched patchwork flesh. He's supposed to be a failed experiment, but seems more like something pinched together like Play-Doh out of leftover meat by a bored, spiteful god. The mutant, who kills every man he sees and rescues Doris under Jan's command, is the movie's only sympathetic male — or is he male? Anyway, he or she is Monster, allied with no-bodied Jan and disfigured Doris, maimed by man, or created as their current ruined selves by man. I'm sorry, but a movie that tucks this many discordant but reverberant subtexts and ideas into a grindhouse narrative deserves so much better than to be derided by hipsters. A refugee from the mad-lab Z-budget pictures of the '50s, Brain in its seamy and leering way agitates more loudly for the then-nascent second-wave feminism than a squarer, more conscientious work could hope to.

Meeting. Following that, Town offices will be relocated to temporary quarters and construction will commence. Construction is expected to take 10-12 months and will result in a beautifully restored building of which generations of Marion residents will take pride.

Weather Ready Open House

Weather Ready Mattapoissett, an organization of local officials and citizens concerned about future flooding in town, invites townspeople interested in learning how the community is preparing for climate change to join town officials, local residents, and EPA on Thursday, October 13 from 6:30 to 8:30 pm at the Old Hammondtown School at 20 Shaw Street.

This event will include an introduction to the work Weather Ready Mattapoissett is doing, including a discussion about how residents can protect their drinking water and wastewater systems. Speakers will look at how the town is preparing for emergencies and what citizens can do to help.

Mattapoissett officials want to make sure its residents are ready for the next big storm. The future promises more and bigger storms that can seriously impact the town's infrastructure and, more importantly, its residents. This has attracted the attention of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, and now Mattapoissett wants to share what it has learned and what residents can do to prepare for the future.

Highlights of the evening include the "world premier" of the Mattapoissett preparedness video, which was produced by the town, and a video of survivor stories from the 1938 storm and Hurricane Bob, which was produced by Old Rochester Community Television.

Residents will be able to find out more about projects going on in Mattapoissett during the second hour of the meeting. Information will be available to make sure every citizen in Mattapoissett is ready for the next hurricane, winter storm or other emergency. Materials will be available about how to download emergency alerts, create communication plans, and how to prepare homes before an emergency.

Among other things, the Weather Ready group has put together pictures and stories from past hurricanes and created a collection of before and after photos, including pictures from the 1938 hurricane. Among the invited guests will be Jared Watson, a local Boy Scout, who marked utility poles with flood levels from the hurricane of '38 and Hurricane Bob as his project towards receiving his Eagle Scout badge.

Other aspects of Weather Ready include a high school teacher who is developing a citizen science project monitoring changes in the environment at two locations in town and a display of preparedness materials being put together by the library. Finally, for an online presence, the town created a web page with all of this information and EPA is creating a "story map," an interactive web page with maps and charts documenting the project.

This October presentation is the final piece of EPA's community involvement in the project through its Regional Applied Research grants and its Regional Sustainability and Environmental Sciences Research Program.

"Mattapoissett and the Weather Ready group has shown us how a community that comes together for a common cause – protecting their environment – can build a future that will let them weather whatever storm may come their way," said Jeri Weiss, EPA Region 1 drinking water specialist. "This effort provides a model for towns and cities nationwide that are facing the challenges of climate change."

According to committee member and event organizer, Kristin McLaughlin, "Tabor's Athletic Hall of Fame was spearheaded by our retired faculty member and Athletic Hall of Fame Coach Inductee, Dick Duffy '56. After 40 years on faculty and a former alum, Duffy has brought great insight to the founding principles of the Athletic Hall of Fame. It has been an exciting opportunity to launch this program with him as we honor the past, celebrate the present, and inspire the future of Tabor Athletics."

A private induction banquet is planned for the morning, starting at 11:00 am to honor the inductees.

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Cosmic changes create a potential for disruptions in your travel plans. In the meantime, you might want to consider shifting your focus to another area of your life that needs attention.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) It's a good time for beauty-loving Bovines to enjoy something special for the senses. It will restore your spirit and return you to the workaday world ready for the next challenge.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) With your planetary ruler, Mercury, going retrograde, you might want to slow down the pace in pursuing some of your projects. Rushing things could be counterproductive.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Tensions begin to ease in those once-testy relationships. This helps create a more positive aspect all around. Expect to hear news that could lead you to rethink a recent decision.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) The pace of activity that had slowed last week now begins to pick up. This is good news for Leos and Leonas who have career-building plans that need to be put into operation.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Venus offers encouragement to romance-seeking Virgos who are ready to get up, get out and meet more people, one of whom could be that long-sought soul mate.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) An ongoing problem with a co-worker might need to be sent to arbitration. Get all your facts together so that you have a solid base from which to make your argument.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) You are usually decisive about most matters. But you might want to defer your decision-making this week until you get more facts. Someone is holding out on you.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) That quiet period is ending, and a new burst of activity creates some problems at the workplace. But things are soon resolved, and everything goes back to normal.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Relationships could be either helpful or hurtful as you pursue your career goals. You might have to make some difficult choices depending on what your priorities are.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) You might still have some doubts about a career move that could involve a lot of travel. If so, continue to check things out until you feel secure about making a decision.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Love rules, as Venus continues to exercise her cosmic influence on both single and attached Pisces. New developments might cause you to change your travel plans.

BORN THIS WEEK: You often think of others before you consider your own needs. You enjoy helping people and would make a fine teacher or caregiver.

At 3:30 pm, the public is invited to join the inductees and Tabor community for the ribbon cutting ceremony, celebrating the Athletic Hall of Fame's grand opening. After perusing the plaque gallery, all are invited to enjoy the football game on the Duffy Turf Field at 4:00 pm where there will be a tent including refreshments for all.

Sippican Historical Society Speaker's Series

Alexander Hamilton will speak at the Marion Music Hall on Thursday, October 20 at 7:00 pm. The setting is December 23, 1800 and the political atmosphere is charged with a dead-locked ballot for the Presidency: Thomas Jefferson and Aaron Burr.

Charles Stockbridge has been lecturing on the founding of the first United States currency and the restoration of the public credit put forth by Alexander Hamilton in 1790. Mr. Stockbridge reenacts Hamilton in period attire in a play written and performed by him. The Sippican Historical Society invites you to attend an evening with General Hamilton at 7:00 pm at the Marion Music Hall. The lecture is free and open to the public.

Chamber Music of France

As part of the Tomlinson Visiting Artist Series at Tabor Academy, the duo Leslie Stroud (flute) and Matthew Odell (piano) will perform a program entitled "Chamber Music of France" at 7:00 pm on Friday, October 14, in the Lyndon South Auditorium on the campus of Cape Cod Furniture Restoration, LLC.

Tabor Academy, 85 Spring Street, Marion. The concert is free and open to the public.

Performing throughout New England, Ms. Stroud and Mr. Odell present the richly varied and often provocative chamber music written for flute and piano. They have the distinction of having performed the complete chamber works for flute and piano written by award-winning French composer Michel Merlet, as well as performing the works of other living composers including Philip Lasser, Ned Rorem and Pierre Boulez. Offering inventive and imaginative programming, they bring the voice of contemporary classical music, alongside favorite works of the established repertory, to a wide array of audiences.

Ms. Stroud and Mr. Odell are both graduates of the Peabody Conservatory of Music. Mr. Odell holds a doctoral degree from The Juilliard School. He is currently on the faculty at The Juilliard School and Keene State College. Mr. Odell, whose playing is called "excellent" by the New York Times and with "...total commitment and real abandon" by Gramophone, regularly performs as a chamber musician and soloist in the U.S. and abroad. Ms. Stroud performs actively in orchestras and collaborative ensembles across the U.S., and her playing is noted by the New Bedford Standard-Times for its "virtuosity" and "excellent solo flute work." Their programming and performances together are noted as "impressive" (Artistree) and "...wildly diverse" (Boothbay Register).

Gateway Youth Hockey

Squirts: The Gladiator Squirts continued their strong start to the season with an 8-1 win over Barnstable on Sunday. Nate Wilson played net and stopped 18 of 19 shots. The offensive attack was led by Brayden Cannon and Tommy Clavell, who both had hat tricks. Liz Kilpatrick(1G, 1A) and Patrick Duggan(1G, 1A) also contributed to the scoring. Kevin Place had a strong defensive effort and contributed with assist.

Bantams: The Gladiator Bantams remained undefeated on the year, beating WHK 6-0. It was a one-sided game, with the Gladiators only giving up two shots on goal. The scoring started just a minute and a half into the first period when Zach Barris scored his first goal of the season, on a one timer, assisted by Will Goldman. A few minutes later, Tyler Lovendale scored an unassisted goal that bounced off the WHK defenseman and passed the goalie. Less than a minute later, Quirino doCanto beat the goalie top shelf, making it 3-0 on an assist from Christian Araujo. Austin Fleming then scored his first goal of the season on a feed from Luke Mello. Matt Cadieux would finish off the scoring of the first period, with assists going to Liv Fryer and doCanto. The Gladiators then took the foot off the gas pedal and began to work on passing. They would add one more goal at the end of the third period, as Cadieux got his second goal of the game, assisted by Lovendale. It was a good team

Midgets: The Gateway Midgets team suffered a tough 5-2 loss at the hands of the Canal Sharks. Goalie Steven Strachan did all he could to keep the Gladiators in the game, making 28 saves. Canal got on the board first, scoring early in the first period, but Jared Westgate would tie it up on a feed from Cam Alden. The score would remain that way until early in the second when Canal scored again, twice. Westgate would put in his second goal of the day, getting a pass in the slot from Robert Ramsay. Jackson St. Don also assisted on the goal. That was as close as the Gladiators would get, as Canal pulled away, putting in two more goals.

Rochester Artists Host Art Show and Sale

The Monday Morning Painters of the Rochester COA will hold an Art Show and Sale on Saturday, October 15 at the Rochester Senior Center, 67 Dexter Lane from 10:00 am to 3:00 pm. A portion of the sales will go to the Friends of the COA. Lunch will be available by the Friends. The following artists will be participating:

Terry Laspesa is a new artist in Rochester. She has taken classes in Harwich, MA and in Meriden, CT. Terry was very fortunate to have lived on Wychmere Harbor in Harwichport, which provided her with a view of the ever-changing water and the environment that it supports. When the spirit moves, that is when she creates. Terry is a free spirit who incorporates that freedom into her art work. Terry was part of the Guild of Harwich artists and participated in Marion's Art in the Park. Some of her earlier works have been made into prints.

Helen Johnson is mainly self-taught. After retiring from teaching, she took a four-session workshop with local artist Kate Fuller for people who always wanted to try watercolor but never had and she was hooked on painting. Currently, Helen paints with the Monday Morning Artists at the Rochester COA and the Canalside Artists at the Bourne COA and is a member of the Bourne/Wareham Art Association, Marion Art Center, and the Taunton Art Association. She has received awards from the Massachusetts State Art Contest for Seniors.

Exploring art in many areas since high school,

Betty Beaulieu has studied with various local artists. The Rochester artist has focused her interest in local history on preserving past and present local scenes in watercolor and oil paintings. Her paintings have won awards in many local art shows. Betty is a member of the Marion Art Center, Taunton Art Association, and Bourne Wareham Art Association.

A graduate of Massachusetts College of Art, Jane Egan is a multifaceted artist who works with a variety of mediums, including oil paint, watercolor, and pastel. Among Jane's most recent accolades, she was awarded "Best of Show" for pastel works in both the Bourne Wareham Art Association and Taunton Art Association member shows. Her pastel works have been juried into

The mediums she enjoys are pen and ink, pastel and watercolor. Lynnette is a member of the Rhode Island Watercolor Society and the Plymouth Center for the Arts. She is currently pursuing watercolor.

Over the past few years Marion artist, Elizabeth Kirke, has enjoyed a myriad of subjects, employing pastels, acrylics, and more recently watercolors. She holds a BA in Art History with a minor in Art Education for University of Massachusetts, Amherst.

New Bedford Glass

Come learn about New Bedford glass and the treasures from the New Bedford Museum of Glass with Kirk Nelson, the Museum's Executive Director, at the Mattapoisett Free Public Library on Tuesday, October 18 from 6:30 to 7:30 pm. Mr. Nelson will provide a fascinating survey of New Bedford glass, glassmaking, and glass collecting when American glassmakers introduced a wide range of colorful, often exotically decorated glassware, in the late 19th century identified today as "art glass." New Bedford was a leading center for the production of this glass and Mr. Nelson will illustrate and discuss outstanding examples from the museum's collection reflecting the eclectic taste of the Victorian era.

Attendees can bring one treasured glass object for Mr. Nelson to identify.

Please register for this event by calling 508-758-4171 or emailing rsmith@sailsinc.org, providing the number of people attending and contact information. The Library is located at 7 Barstow Street and is handicapped accessible.

Jeremy Bruns Organ Recital

In honor of Reformation Sunday, Jeremy S. Bruns will play an all-Bach organ recital at the First Congregational Church in Marion on Sunday, October 30 at 5:00 pm. This year's Reformation Sunday begins a year-long build-up to the 500th Anniversary of the day Martin Luther nailed his "95 Theses" to the door of the Wittenberg's Castle Church in 1517.

Among Mr. Bruns selections will be the Prelude and Fugue in D Major, BWV 532, and the variations on the

We invite the entire community to join us in a variety of free activities intended to rediscover our shared heritage.

Oct 9 - Missions Sunday worship will special pulpit guest the Rev. June Cooper, Executive Director of the City Mission Boston. In the sanctuary, 10 a.m., followed by a reception and "missions fair", with representatives from church-supported organizations. All are invited to attend.

Oct 25 - "Going Home to God" - "What if" free community workshop led by Gwen W. Morgan

From 6-7pm, Tuesday evening in the church hall. Gwen has been involved with the elderly and hospice for many years, thus seeing the importance of being organized about personal affairs. The presentation focuses on the issue of accountability and how we can put our personal affairs and final wishes in order as a Gift of Preparedness to those who may be affected by life changes. Complimentary light refreshments.

Please register.

Bruns has been a prize-winner in the International J.S. Bach Organ Competition held at the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C. and last March, he was featured in the Boston Bach Birthday 331 at Boston's First Lutheran Church. Mr. Bruns has served as associate organist of St. Thomas Church in New York City and now holds the position of Assistant Director of Music at St. Paul's Church and Choir School in Harvard Square

The First Congregational Church in Marion was built in 1841. In 1884, with support from local philanthropist Elizabeth Taber, a new mechanical-action organ by George S. Hutchings was installed. Beginning last year, the church has presented outstanding organists in recital, including Christa Rakich, Stephen Young, Carson Cooman, and Barry Turley.

Tickets for the recital are $10 and may be purchased at The Bookstall on Front Street in Marion and at the door. For more information and reservations, call 508-748-2067. The First Congregational Church, located at 28 Main Street at the corner of Front and Main in Marion, is handicapped accessible.

Early Voting

We are excited to announce that all registered voters will be able to vote before Election Day for the first time ever in Massachusetts. Early voting will begin on October 24 and continue through November 4. Prior to the enactment of this new law, the only way a registered voter was allowed to vote prior to Election Day was through absentee voting. Although absentee voting will still be available for registered voters who qualify, only those who will be absent from their city or town on Election Day, or have a disability that prevents them from going to the polls, or have a religious belief preventing the same, are legally allowed to vote by absentee ballot.

Unlike absentee voting, early voting is for every registered voter. Registered voters do not need an excuse or reason to vote early. Regardless of whether a voter wants to take advantage of early voting, vote absentee or vote on Election Day, the first step is making sure you are registered. To check to see if you are registered to vote, and to find information on how to register to vote, you may visit the Secretary of the Commonwealth's website: www.sec.state.ma.us/ele. If you need to register to vote, you may do it online by visiting: www.RegisterToVoteMA.com. All you need is a license or an I.D. issued by the Registry of Motor Vehicles to apply online. To be eligible to vote in the November 8 State Election, you must register to vote or make any necessary changes to your voter registration by October 19, 2016.

Early voting can be done in person or by mail. In Mattapoisett, early voting can be done in person at Mattapoisett Town Hall, 16 Main Street, Mattapoisett during the following dates and times: Monday, October 24 & 31; Tuesday, October 25 & November 1; Thursday, October 27 & November 3; Friday, October 28 & November 4 from 8:00 am until 4:00 pm; and Wednesday, October 26 & November 2 from 8:00 am until 7:00 pm. Are you ready for some spooktacular fun? Dust off the cobwebs and sharpen those scary pencils. Your best Halloween artwork could be on the cover of The Wanderer and you could win a great prize! Submit your best original Halloween drawing, photo, compilation or artwork to enter for publication on our October 27 cover.

Deadline for submitting artwork is Friday, October 14 at noon. Online voting will take place from October 16 to October 24. The cover winner will win $100 and his or her artwork will be on the October 27 cover of The Wanderer! All entries must be original; cover entries must contain completely original artwork and/or photos. No copied items, including traced clip art, will be considered for the contest. All entries must be accompanied by a completed and signed entry form, available in our office or on our website. A full list of rules and regulations can be found at www.wanderer.com. For more information, call our office at 508-758-9055.

This year, instead of the Halloween story contest, we will be accepting scary stories from the public, which we may possibly publish in The Wanderer. If we publish your submitted story, we will compensate you monetarily for your talent.

We will accept literary works from now until noon on October 24. Email literary submissions to news@wanderer.com!

Register to Vote

October 19 is the last day to register to vote in the 2016 national election. The League of Women Voters urges all citizens, 18 years of age or older, to exercise their right to participate in the important decisions facing our nation this year. If you have not voted before, registration is easy and can take place at your Town Hall, by mail or online. Full information can be found online at sec.state.ma.us or from the Registrar of Voters in your community.

SHERMAN'S LAGOON
by J.P. Toomey

If you have changed your address since the last time you voted, you must make that correction by October 19 as well, and can do so using the same means as above. This re-registration is especially important on Election Day since you will be asked to identify yourself at the polls by your address first, then your name. This is a new procedure and one that has proven to be more efficient for the poll workers and thus a time-saver for you.

Finally, if you wish to enroll as an unaffiliated – formerly independent – voter (no specific political party), you should check the No Party box on the registration form.

As the League has said for many years, “Democracy is not a spectator sport,” so be sure you are registered and prepared to vote on Election Day, Tuesday, November 8.

Mattapoisett Lions Club

Mattapoisett Lions Club will hold a dinner meeting at the Pythagorean Lodge Hall, 13 Spring Street, Marion, on Wednesday, October 12 at 7:00 pm. This meeting is open to men, women and couples from Mattapoisett and Marion area. Reservations are required; email lionsmembership1@gmail.com or call 508 758 2345.

Rochester Historical Society Open Sundays

The Rochester Historical Society Museum, 355 County Road, will be open on Sundays from 1:00 to 3:00 pm during the month of October. The Museum features a Display of Historical Places and a Cookbook Sale, and the Gift Shop will be open.

Rabies Clinic

There will be a Rabies Clinic on October 23 from 10:00 am to 12:00 noon at the Mattapoisett Fire Station. All dogs must be leashed and all cats in carriers. The cost per animal is $15. Thank you from all the unvaccinated critters in town and the surrounding towns. You do not have to live in Mattapoisett to attend our clinic.

I Found the Aardvark!

Each week, hidden somewhere in the pages of The Wanderer is a tiny drawing of an aardvark. The little guy you are looking for looks exactly like the one pictured above (but don't put down this page as your answer, there's another one hidden somewhere in this issue).

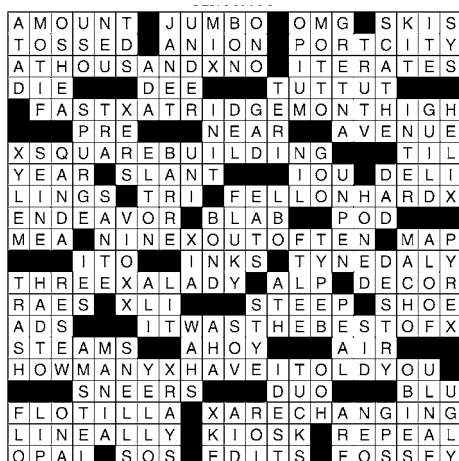

Once you find the aardvark you can submit your answer online and if you are right you will get Aardvark Points! You can then use these points to get cool Aardvark Prizes!

To enter visit: www.wanderer.com and Click on I Found the Aardvark

In the September 29, 2016 issue the Aardvark was on page 18!
